Cultural operator(s)

Name	Brătianu Cultural Centre
Short description	Brătianu Cultural Centre is a public institution set up in 1993. In its mansion, the most important family of Romanian politicians was born and lived – a true civil dynasty. The Brătianu family residence and household are historical monuments of Romanian culture and civilization. Our objectives are: to promote the historical and architectural ensemble; to develop our own programme of cultural activities; to cooperate with local, national and international institutions. Our main activities aim to contribute to the scientific and artistic education of the public through specific programmes: support to young researchers and valuable artists; development and publishing of studies, publications and documentaries; collaborations with the Ministry of Education, Research and Youth, with foundations, universities in the country and abroad in order to present and promote Romanian culture and civilization values, as well as the common European values. For a European cooperation project we have relevant expertise and would like to participate in activities concerning: handicraft camps, sculpture camps, hosting scientific conferences, exhibitions, wood carving, creating dolls in traditional costumes, creative workshops. For the implementation of these activities we can also offer our accommodation space and catering services.
